Belt Reflection Assignment

My Belt was a random assortment of things in my life that I liked. Most of them are from when I was younger and some are from high school. They all have important meanings to me from experiences that I have been through. Each item on my belt represents a phase of my life.

Showing my interest and how they have changed over time.

One Picture is a tech symbol and it's what I want to procure as work. I've really been into coding and computers since I was young and always found them interesting. I find designing and building web pages fun to do and want to do it full-time. I also like working with computers even though I just started a little over a year ago. As technology always interested me, I've learned and enjoyed new things about programming and developing web pages. In the future, I would like to make my own with all my accomplishments of mine and background paragraphs. Coding lets me solve problems and be creative with the work witch I do and always enjoyed.

Another picture is of a Soccer team Called FC Barcelona and it's my favorite team of all time. The First time I watched one of their games I was in 3rd Grade and have been a fan since then. I've always liked how they are always dedicated and their always using teamwork. Their passion makes inspires me to work hard in anything I do or want to accomplish.

Watching their games recently has been exciting and made me go into watching and playing more than before. I hope to see them play in person in the future meet some of the players and go to Spain to see their stadium and see their culture. And no matter what I will always be a fan of the team.

I like how I made my belt but I wanted a little more time to fix it up. It did come out how I wanted it, I still wanted to add details and fix the symbols a little more, and I wanted to add more Symbols to the belt. The symbol I wanted to put is a Cross to represent the closer I've been getting closer to God the past year and growing closer with Faith. And I want to keep growing in Faith and Getting closer to God. My Faith has become an important part of my life and I rely on it every day it helps me stay focused and when things get hard I use Faith to make it past the thing that has been troubling me. Every day My Faith gives me strength and helps me make it through the day with a positive mindset.
